Gilmanton, N. H., Feb. 23, 1907.

REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD.

To the citizens of the town of Gilmanton, the school board respectfully submit their annual report.

The numbers of schools maintained the past year has been twelve. Namely: Iron Works, Lougetown, Guinea Ridge, Gale, Kelley, Potter, Smith Meeting House, Pond, Corner, Jones' Mills, Sanborn and Allen's Mills. Number of different teachers employed during the year has been twenty-one. Whole number of scholars attending not less than two weeks, 188. In presenting our annual report of the condition of our schools, and the work done in them during the past year, we would say that while there has been much that is pleasing and satisfactory, and our schools have made good progress in most instances, yet the school board has met with many difficulties not very easily unravelled.

Our schools are constantly growing smaller from year to year and the one great problem is, how to so unite our schools and get the scholars together without incurring a greater expense than it costs to maintain a school. Many of our children are small, and if schools are united they must be carried, which fact only opens the door to the next step. By whom, and what will be the expense? It costs just as much to maintain a school of four or five scholars as it would a school of fifteen or twenty. Nor is this all. It is our experience that pupils will take more interest and do more and better work in a larger class. With our number of schools reduced, and consequently the membership increased. We could then afford to pay better wages, and at least command teachers with more experience. The best results can never be attained until we are able to secure the services of educated, cultured, trained and devoted teachers in all of our schools.

When the common school was founded there was little or no knowledge of the science of education, the demand was quantity teaching, and in fact a great majority of the people are firm believers in quantity today. They insist that their children shall "go over," "go through," but particularly shall "finish." They seem to measure education by the yard. The time has come when we must have quality, or in other words scientific teaching. How can this best be obtained? Superintendent Morrison would say, try supervision. Hence an article has been put in the school warrant this year. "To see if the district will vote to place itself under supervision." Whether or not a movement in this direction will be of material benefit to our schools, is an open question. The expense, if united with two or three other towns will be about $300 to each town. However, one thing is certain. Our schools can be very much improved by a hearty co-operation of all concerned.

Parents can do very much toward making a school a success, or on the other hand by listening to petty grievances brought home by "the only child?" talking the matter over, and too frequently agreeing with the child without any knowledge of the nature of the trouble can do much harm. Let the child's school life be imbued with the idea that schools are maintained for their good, and the rules laid down therein are to be respected and obeyed, and right and justice will prevail. See to it that your children are promptly and regularly in their places in the school room, allowing them to absent themselves on no pretext whatever excepting sickness, and our schools will be very much improved.

It is the aim of the school board at all times to employ the best teachers available for the wages paid.

The work of repairing school buildings has been hindered somewhat owing to the difficulty of getting help. It was found necessary to repair the Sanborn school house and open a school in that district. The expense of repairs, including new seats was $68.40. We now have two or three buildings that need shingling and some that need painting.

MARY A. WIGHT,
